4. Existing and Potential Agent Assets

C. AEDOGMA

Subject has functioned almost exclusively as a LCIMPROVE operative and informant on emigre politics in the past. However, the Station hopes to re-orient him enough so that he will be able to recognize the potential in any REDSKIN lead that may come his way so that he will report it. The writer will brief him on qualifications required in a mounted REDSKIN traveler so he can begin spotting and will also ask him to start collecting systematically any information on potential target personalities in the USSR that he may hear of.

As in the case of AEVIRGIL, this asset is not yet functioning in Paris and probably will not make any considerable contribution for the coming operational season.
